Build a Chatbot Dialog for Restaurants

Truck Stop Gourmand

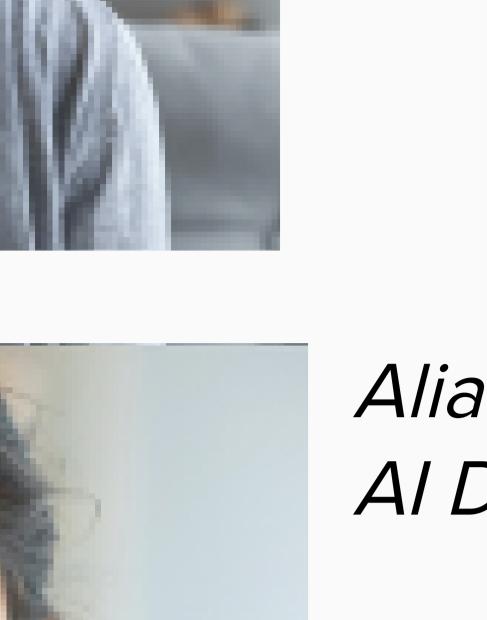

Team Introduction

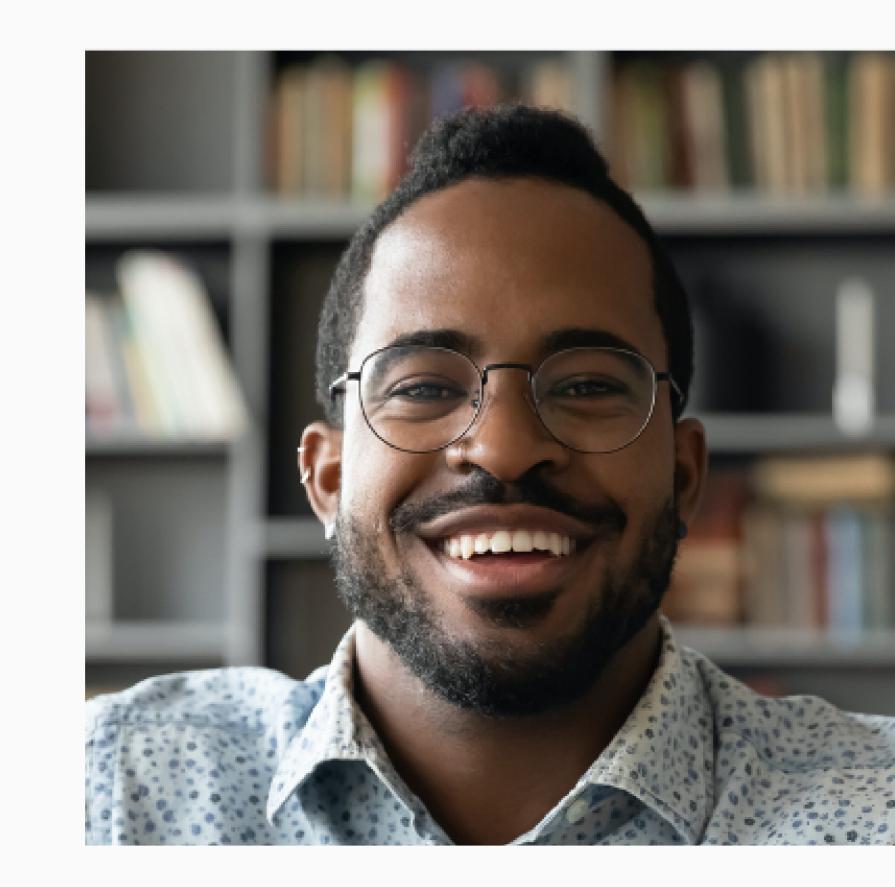

Welcome to the brainstorming session for Truck Stop Gourmand

Adam and Alia have reached out to a wider team, including executives, in order to have a full collaborative process. It is important to include as many stakeholders (anyone who will be impacted by the client request) as possible, so that the end product can be as successful as possible. This also ensures that the product will not only look good on paper or to executives, but will also be a practical for the employees operating it.

Jessica Graphic Designer

Technical Writer

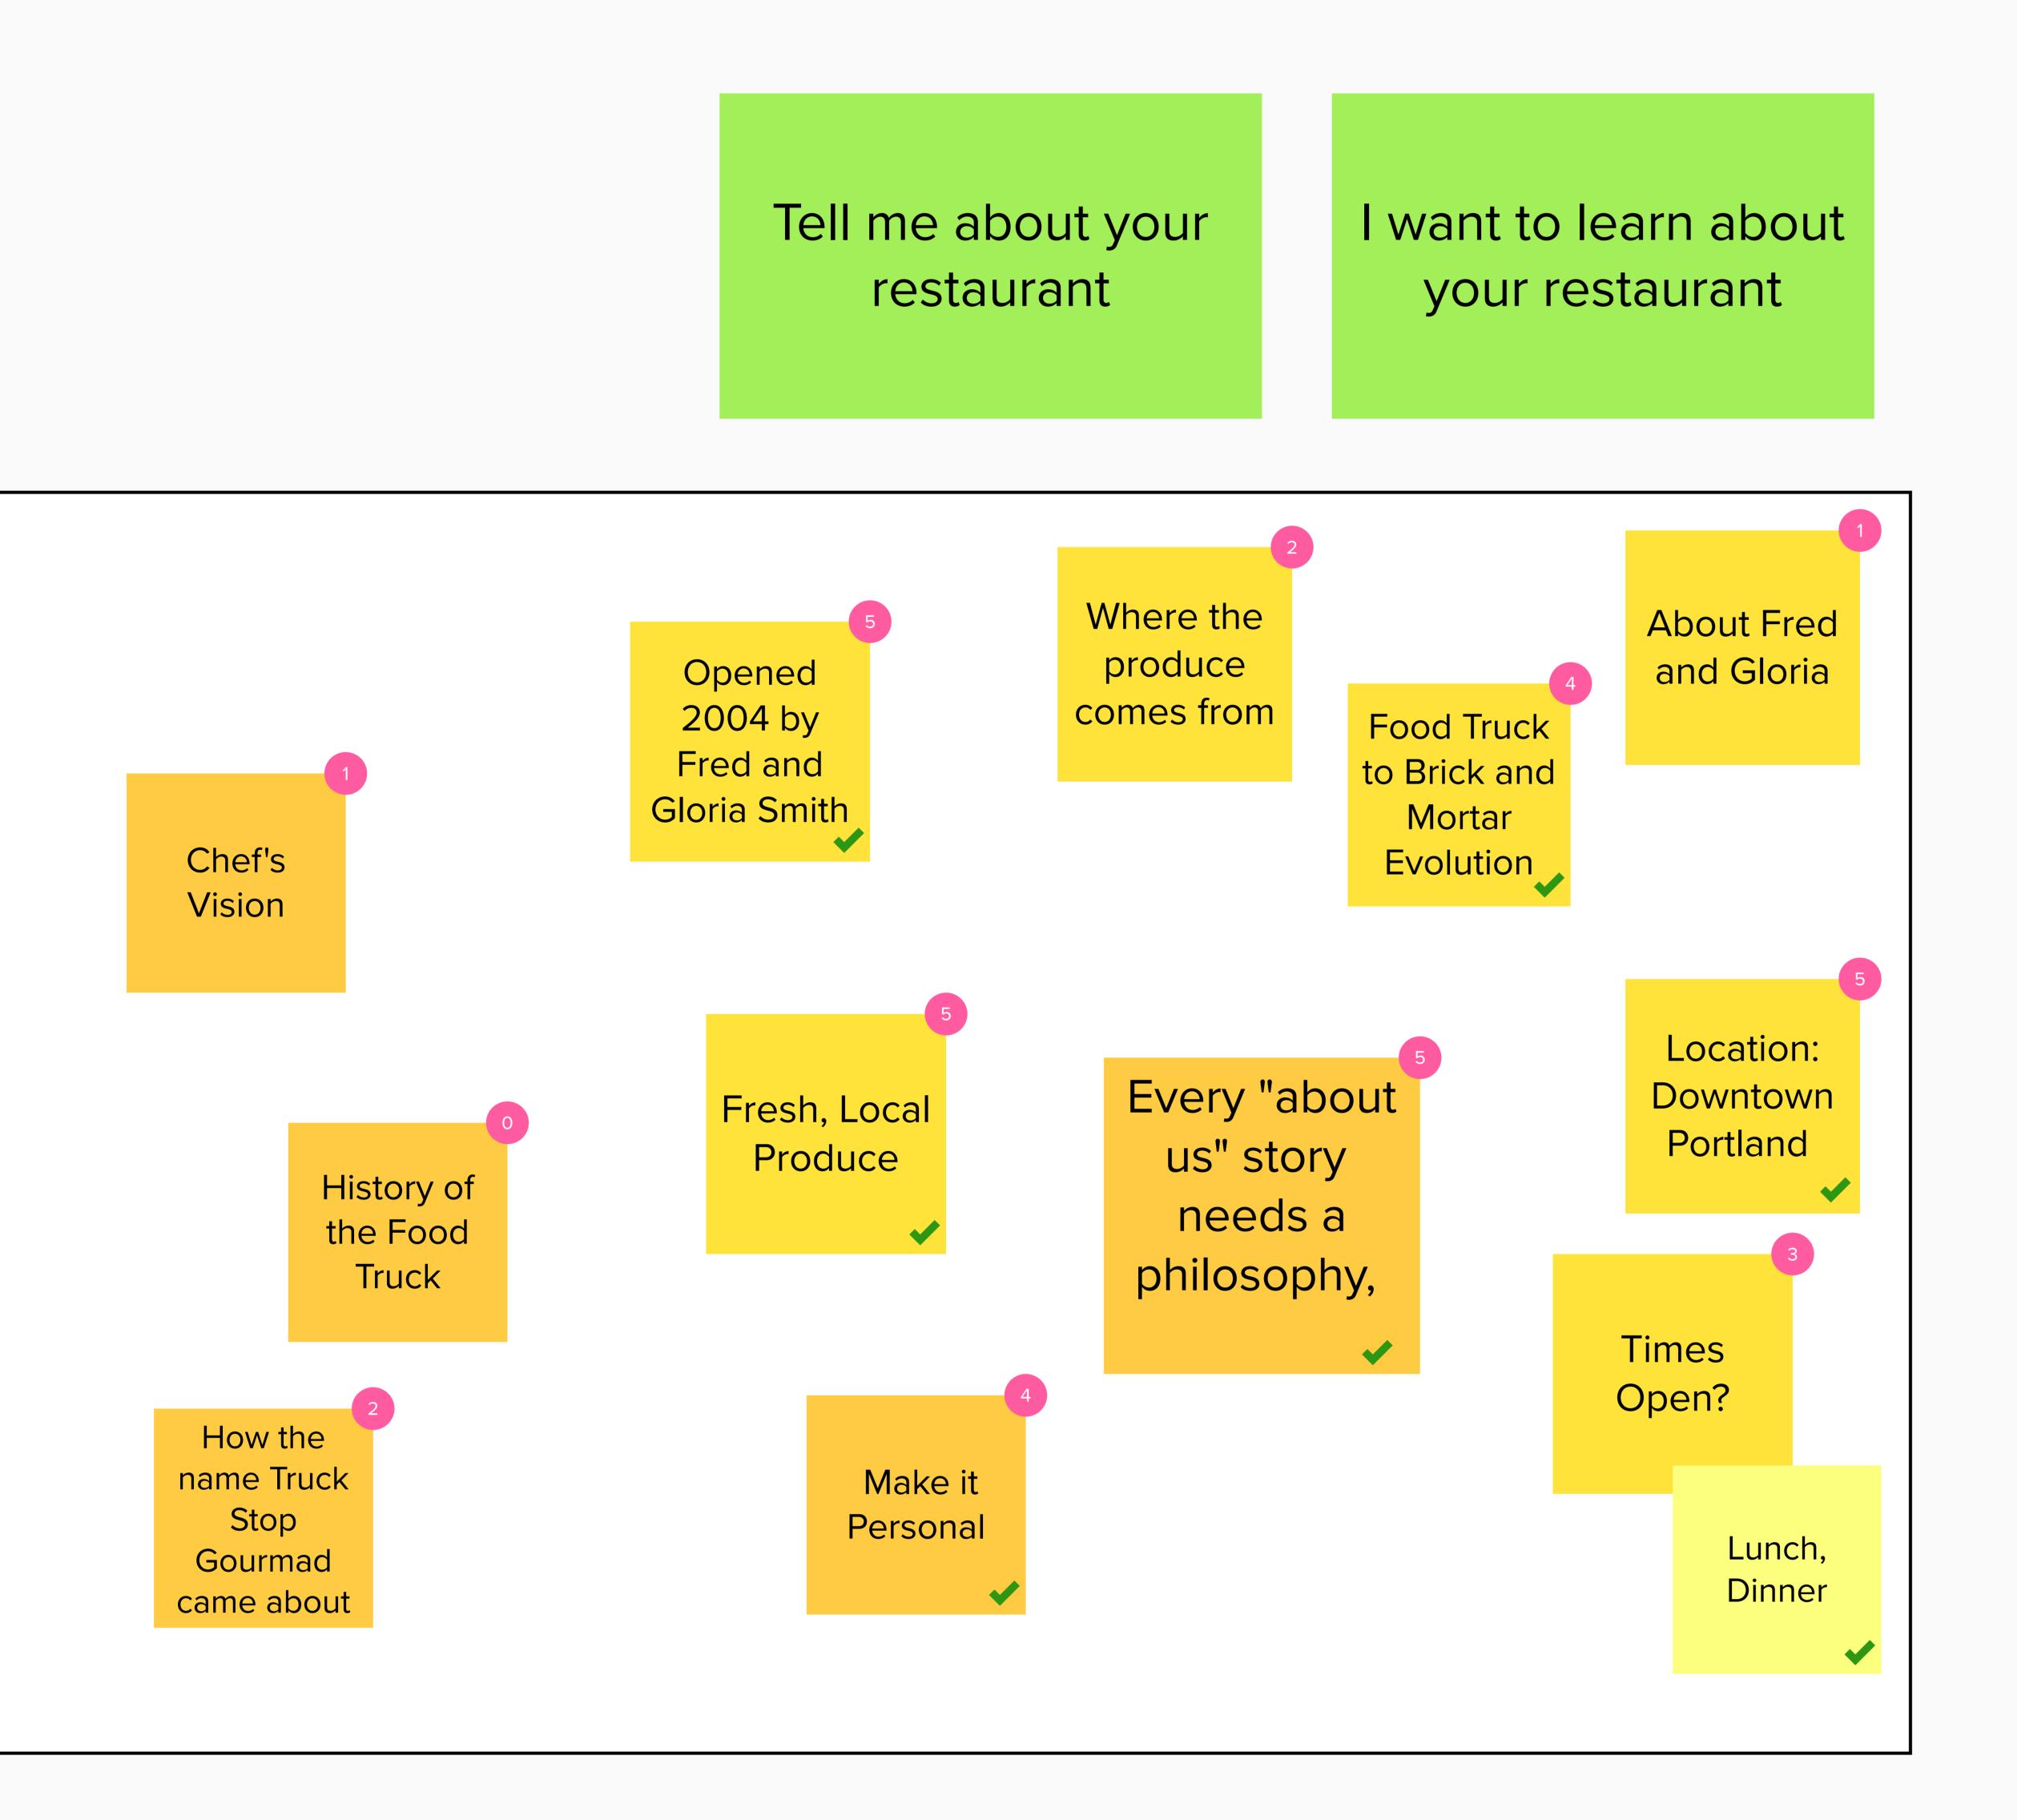

Love it!

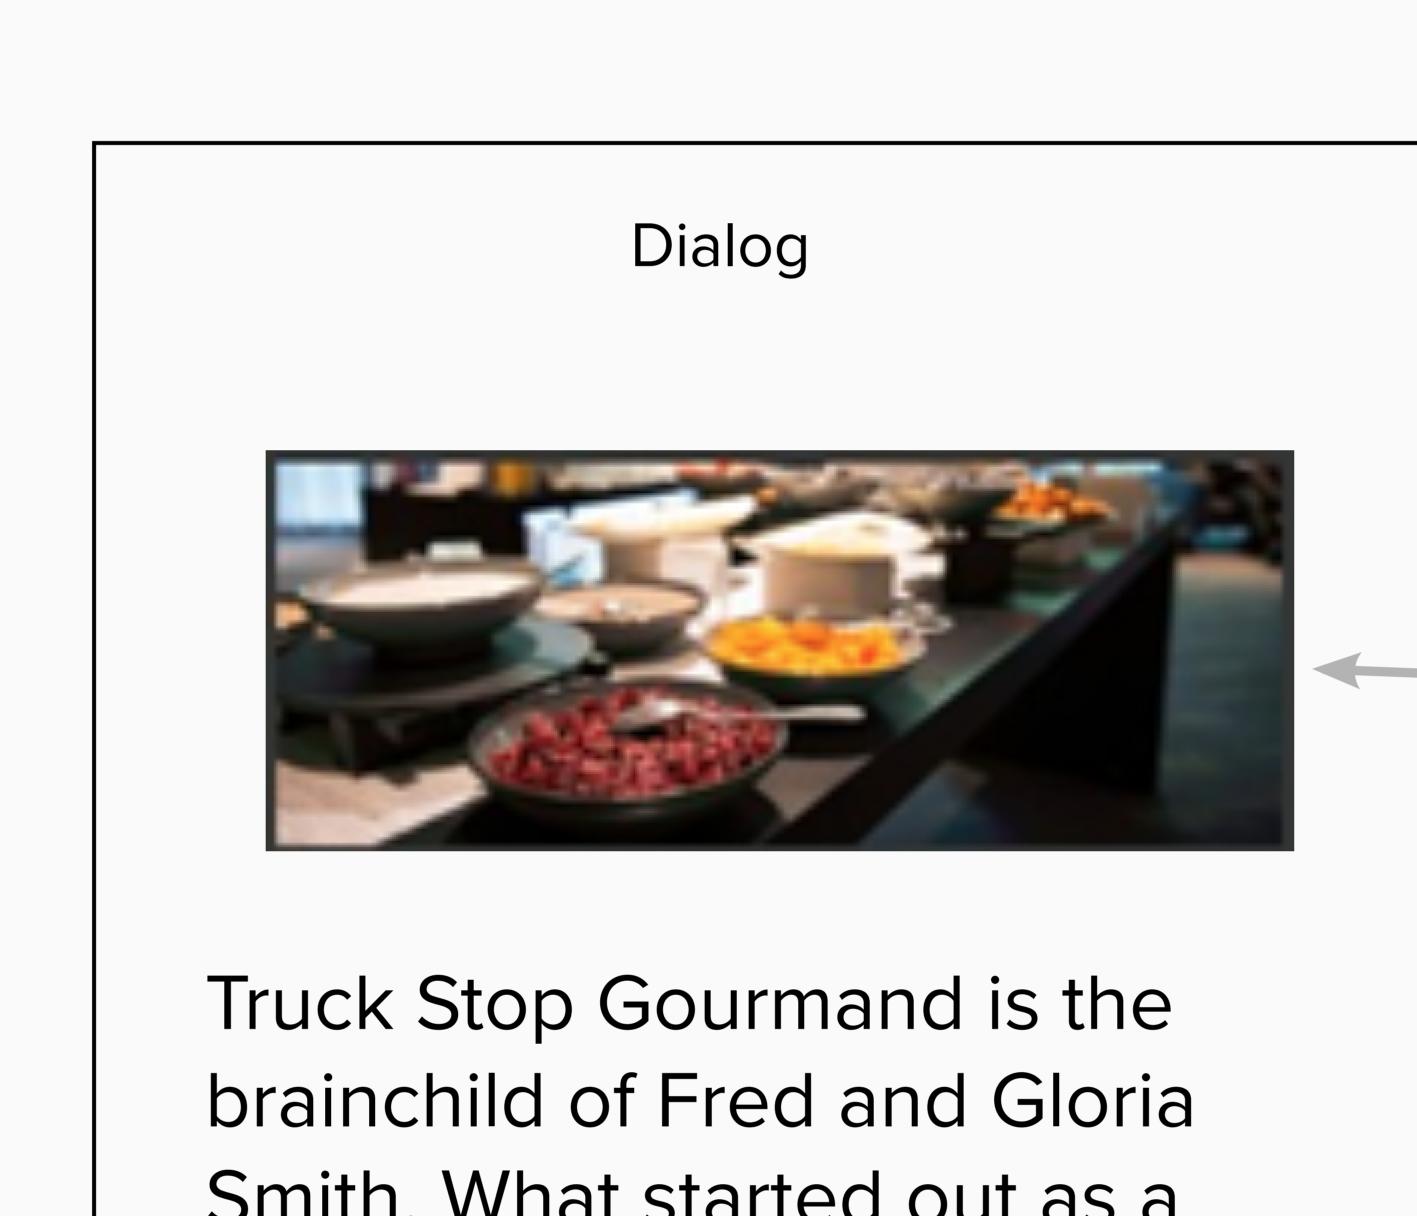

Client Relations

Phase 1 About the Restaurant

In this phase we will be coming up with an "About Us" backstory for Truck Stop Gourmand

About the Restaurant

Smith. What started out as a food truck in 2004 has expanded into a thriving restaurant. We now have one brick-and-mortar restaurant in downtown Portland. The bigger kitchen brought with it new chefs, but each one is faithful to the philosophy that made the Smith food truck so popular to begin with: deliver fresh, local produce in inventive and delicious ways. Join us for lunch

Phase 2 Menu Inquiry

In this phase we will be developing a list of general user inquiries and chatbot responses for our menu

About the Menu

